Date: 7th Sept, 2010

NEW: Wiedenmann UK to supply winter maintenance & out front attachments for AEBI single axle tractors

Recent changes in distributor agreements means that Wiedenmann UK can now sell equipment specific to Aebi models CC56 and CC66.

Aebi dealers can order a range of winter maintenance and out front attachments from Wiedenmann's UK headquarters, adjacent to Glasgow Airport.

The bespoke mowing decks, blades and combined sweepers are based largely on current Wiedenmann models which have earned a reputation for their robust construction, ability to withstand frequent handling and rigorous use. The main differences lie with the very specific fitting and attaching of each product and the pick up of the drive lines.

Each Wiedenmann unit is manufactured to suit each model allowing the customer to get the very best out of the Aebi two and three wheel machines. Two mowing decks are available - the Super FXL and the Super TXL, both in 1.3m working width and with optional mulching kits/ blades. A newly launched Snow Master shock absorbing snow blade has been specifically adapted which at 1.4 wide will efficiently and quickly route snow away from paths and public areas. The final piece of equipment is a version of Wiedenmann's versatile Combi Clean 2350 a sweeping machine that sweeps dirt year all year round and snow in the winter.

The Wiedenmann attachments will also fit the retired Aebi TC07
